As you update the budget for each individual expense, you'll see how much is available from your total starting funds next to "Budget Remaining."

You determine your budget results by subtracting the total budget available from the total spend.

- If the budget result is $0, that means you spent the exact amount you had available.
- If the budget result is negative (below $0), that means you spent more than the total funds available. Consider ways to reduce your spend, like getting creative with homemade decorations instead of store bought.
- If the budget result is positive (above $0), you've got money left over! Now, you can buy your loved ones a couple of extra gifts or event treat yourself with a gift of your own.
